s we prepare to leave this place of wrath, tears, joys, and fears we call high school, we take this book with us to remind us of our high school years, to help us reflect upon a turning point in our lives.

There is much to remember. The past four years have been unprecedented on the world scale. Starting with Poland, the Eastern Block countries and the late Soviet Union (who knows what to call it now) gave up Communism for capitalism and democracy. Unfortunately, democracy was not successful in China. The Cold War ended and we warred with Iraq. We saw, meanwhile, the greed and waste of the eighties replaced by a conservation minded environmentalism. We traded our BMW's for Jeeps and motorscooters for mountain bikes. Healthwise, we discovered that anything other than broccoli will kill us, though some foods will kill us more quickly than others. The AIDS epidemic scared us to the point where the word "condom" can be printed in a school yearbook.

Like the world, we, as students, have undergone tremendous changes. We are no longer the small, wary freshmen we were four years ago. Though it will take time to decide if the changes the world has undergone are good or bad, we have changed for the better.

The last four years have certainly been unforgettable. We have been through so many changes and so much time. Freshman year is too far in the past to remember clearly, and soon we will leave senior year behind. For this reason we take this book with us as a record of who we became during the past four years. It will remind us where we came from and with whom we came with. What we will remember most from our high school years will probably not be our tests, grades, assignments, books, papers, or the building itself. What we will remember will be our friends — the people who helped us get through the stress and heartache while celebrating our joys and triumphs. They are what we should remember. They are the reasons we keep this book.

ACADEMICS

For some of us, high school was an exercise in inventing excuses, missing assignments, and arranging frees so we could have triple lunches five days a week. For others, the thrill and challenge of academics caused us to overload our schedules, pull all-nighters, and, worst of all, stay in the cafeteria for lunch. Most of us fell somewhere between these two extremes.

We took classes in such diverse areas as tech-voc, business, science, languages, math, physical education, computers, social sciences, history, home economics, English, and the arts. The incredible number of departments and courses at Newton North allowed each of us to choose a program suited to our interests and abilities. We learned, as part of a truly liberal education, how to sew a dress, graph a function, drive a car, fix a car, cook a gourmet meal, write a research paper, and take care of our children. We performed in music, theater, and art presentations, learned how to run a business, became fluent in foreign languages, and drafted plans for our future homes.

However we have chosen to spend our twenty-eight blocks a week, whether we have had three lunches a day or only one, we all left Newton North knowing that we were prepared for whatever the future holds.

TECHNICAL/VOCATIONAL

The Technical/Vocational program at Newton North involves many students in a great variety of fields. Students learn skills ranging from graphic design to auto mechanics to culinary arts to carpentry on all levels from introductory to advanced.

The Tech/Voc program allows students to take majors with classes meeting fifteen times a week for two years. This prepares them for technical schools or for a career in their chosen major. Other students take elective courses meeting two or four times a week for a year or a semester. Courses are offered both in major and elective programs in auto body, auto mechanics, carpentry, culinary arts, drafting, electrical shop, and graphic design.

For some students Tech/Voc classes were a preparation for a career out of high school, for others it was a wonderful addition to regular classes. The Tec/Voc program at Newton North is one of the school's strongest features and is a great asset to the school. "We got really messy, but it was a blast," one student remarked.

SPECIAL COURSES

At Newton North, many special programs and courses allow students a break from the rigors of academics and help them prepare for a variety of needs and goals.

EdCo, or Education Collaborative, is the program for students who are hard of hearing at NNHS. EdCo provides students with interpreters and special counselors to help them succeed in the Newton North community. The EdCo program is highly acclaimed and publicised, attracting students from all over the state.

The Plowshares daycare center provides a place where child development students can implement their classroom learning. A functioning daycare center is an ideal environment for observation and hands-on experience in child care. It is also a valuable resource for working parents and teachers with small children.

The Driver's Education program at Newton North, run by Norman Swerling, instructs students in the art of safe driving. In the classroom portion of the class, students see films, mostly concerning the consequences of bad driving, as well as learning the rules of the road from the famous "blue book." Upon receiving their permits at sixteen, students take the On the Road portion of the class, driving with an instructor to prepare for driving in traffic and parallel parking on Hull Street.

The Tiger's Loft allows culinary arts students to use their skills in an actual restaurant setting. Students learn to prepare, serve, and sell food to faculty patrons. Students rotate in order to learn about every aspect of the restaurant, and leave well prepared for careers or further education in the restaurant industry.

For some seniors, the SPARC program, or Senior Program of Alternatives to Regular Classes, gives them a much needed change from four years of academics. Students in the SPARC program choose internships in various fields. Along with being a great alternative to senior slump, the program allows seniors a chance to gain hands-on work experience.

MUSIC

For years Newton North High School has been acclaimed for its talented musicians and dedicated staff. This year proved to be no exception. The performance groups continued to take on challenging music and to perform it with grace and dignity. The superior direction of Thomas Leonard, Richard Travers, and Gordon Duckel led the way.

This year the Concert Choir, which includes all members of the Family Singers and the Sisters, travelled to Long Island to participate in a "Gala Festival." Newton North's students joined four New York high schools in a performance of Wolfgang Amedeus Mozart's Requiem. Richard Westerfield, a runner-up for the job of Assistant Conductor for the Boston Symphony Orchestra, was the director at this event. Needless to say, he was more than capable.

This performance of Mozart's Requiem was consistent with Newton North's tradition of performing one major work each year. Past works have included the Haydn's Lord Nelson Mass and the Poulenc's Gloria. Tradition plays an important role in the musical world. Newton North is no exception to this rule. Ric 'n' Rocco, Winterfest, and Pops Night were all performed this year, as expected, exciting the Newton North community and demonstrating the quality of our music department. Continuing a recent trend, Ric 'n' Rocco showcased many student musicians and singers as well as the usual cast.

The Wind Ensemble, Symphonic Band, and the Sisters performed in Montréal during April, but the Family Singers' planned trip to Ireland during April vacation was unexpectedly cancelled, much to the disappointment of the group.

Another change in the department was the arrival of a new orchestra conductor. Gordon Duckel became the conductor this year, replacing Eric Benjamin who left the school to take another position in the Midwest. "Mr. Duckel [brought] fresh change to the orchestra with his energy and enthusiasm," said senior Oliver Pierson.

Although budget cuts made it more difficult than ever to maintain the high quality of the music department this year, extra effort and a few sacrifices turned 1992 into yet another fabulous year for the Newton North High School Music Department.

CLUBS

Clubs form the backbone of Newton North's extracurricular life. If you ask people what they do at Newton North, most of them will reply by stating what clubs they participate in. As freshmen, we were told to get involved, to become a part of the school. Some of us chose to join teams, but most of us found a way to be involved by joining clubs. For those of us who did, clubs became an outlet for our energies and our interests. Whether they were academic, service oriented, or just plain fun, they added variety and diversity to our lives. Clubs also provided opportunities that would otherwise not be available. Whether it was the Science Club or the Ultimate Frisbee Club, there was something for everybody. Through clubs we met friends, enjoyed ourselves, and maybe even learned something.

The Math Team was anchored by its captains, senior Seth Weinstein and sophomore Suzanne Henry. "Although we did flagitiously, we had a scintillating adventure," Weinstein said.

Co-presidents senior Dave Bayer and junior Caroline Keller, led the Science Club to a first place in anatomy in the Science Olympiad. Other officers were juniors Hannah Shay, secretary; Robin Shostack, treasurer; and senior Eric Shaw, Interhouse representative.

The Mock Trial Team, ranked third in the country, looked towards a successful season. "The core of our team has been together for five years and our goal this year is to place first in the nation," said senior Noah Reinhardt.

The Speech Team was excited to compete in the State Finals in April after having competed six other times during the year. "Almost all of our members were new. Many people have improved a lot and we've come together as a team," said junior co-captain Miriam Weiner. Junior Karen Stern was the other co-captain.

Model United Nations attended the Harvard University Conference and the National High School Conference. The officers were seniors Kathleen Snyder, president; Shawn Tubman, vice-president; Brenda Marshall, treasurer; and Scott Edminston, secretary.

ATHLETIC CLUBS

Fifteen outings were planned this year by the Rock Climbing Club. "We've had a lot of new members which is great because it means more people are finding out that the Rock Climbing Club exists and that it's really fun," said junior Rachel Kuller, the student coordinator.

Water Polo's goals were to beat their archrival, St. John's Prep, and win the States. "Water Polo is rough, yet fun, and it also brings together some swim team members in a different sport," senior co-captain Mike King said. South senior Rick Ostenburg was also a co-captain.

Junior Justin Neisuler and sophomore Micha Josephy founded the Ultimate Frisbee Club this year. Neisuler, the president, and seniors Jeff Kurzweil and Dave Leone, the vice-presidents, planned after school games in the fall and spring. "I'm very pleased that we were able to draw on such a powerful interest. Ultimate Frisbee is truly the sport of sports," Neisuler said.

Ski club had six trips this year. "We have had excellent kids and terrible weather, but everyone had a great time" said advisor Don Smith.

The Crew Club, with a membership of ninety, raced six times against private school teams. Their main goals were to gain rowing experience and to build a strong reputation. Officers were sophomores Alison Pitts, president; Renée Deehan, vice-president; Leah Gassett, secretary; senior Jerusha Hall, treasurer; and junior Jill Wertheim and sophomore Jonah Kowall, publicity managers.

Tiger Magazine, the monthly half hour television show, produced programs on school news, sports and sports as well as creative pieces. "It was the best class I've ever taken. I could be as creative as I wanted to be and do anything I wanted to," said junior Brian Colton.

Newton North Speaks, the bi-weekly radio show, covered a range of topics from class rank to The Grateful Dead. "Students enjoy Newton North Speaks because we are not doing straight news reporting. There is room to be creative," remarked senior Irene Lusztig, the president.

Thoughtprints, the art and literary magazine, successfully produced a calendar and a magazine. "This year we have been fortunate to have a wider variety of students involved. We are very pleased with our accomplishments," said senior Kathryn Rasala, the production editor. Other editors were seniors Sarah Bromberg, editor-in-chief; Ben Grossman, literary editor; Irene Lusztig, art editor; and Meg Zupancic, managing editor.

Many changes were made by the 1992 Newtonian staff. The new position of Copy Editor was created to ensure a more polished book. Seniors were allowed to check and revise their blurbs, and the senior portraits were enlarged. To avoid the cost and inconvenience of a supplement, spring sports and theater were placed into the book. Editor-in-chief Mark Sisco summed it up by saying "I'm not sure I'd do it again, but it was definitely worth doing."

The Newtonite came out with sixteen regular issues this year and one special issue. It has won numerous awards and continued its tradition of excellence. "This was a very successful year for the staff. We dealt with many important and timely issues such as the Gulf War and the racial incident. I am very proud of our accomplishments. It was a great staff and we even managed to have a lot of fun together," said editor-in-chief Erin Miles.

HOUSE COUNCILS

↑ Beals House Council

→ Riley House Council

Adams House Council "attempted to get more people, especially freshmen, involved," said senior co-president Gabe Unger. Their major fundraiser, co-sponsored with Barry House Council, was Ric 'n' Rocco. Seniors Shana Nadel, co-president, Deva Lieberman, treasurer, and Jen Efferen, secretary, worked to make it a successful year.

Barry House Council raised money through bake sales and Ric 'n' Rocco. They also participated in community service. "It's been a larger council than usual, but everyone worked together," said senior Joanna D'Afflitti, a co-president. Other officers included seniors Claudia Schnipper, co-president; Doug Suvalle, treasurer; and junior Miriam Weiner, secretary.

Beals House Council was led by seniors Julie Luciano, president; Caitlin Murphy, secretary; Sophie Lanjuin, treasurer; and Megan McNamara, interhouse representative. They sponsored The Battle of the Bands as well as bake sales to raise money for scholarships. "We've had a lot more participation this year, especially from the freshman and sophomores," Luciano said.

Riley House Council opened the year with International Night, its largest fundraiser. "We made a lot of money and we had a great time," said senior co-president Dante Mazzola. Other officers were seniors Erin Sullivan, co-president; Lissy Linsenmayer, secretary; and junior Rachel Theran.

INTEREST CLUBS

"The Entrepreneurs' Club gave students a change to learn how to invest in the stock market," said junior Brian Colton, president. Other officers included juniors Dan Allen, Jon Feldman, Dan Freedberg, and J.P. Jaillet.

The Enviromental Club focused primarily on the recylcing program at North. The co-presidents were senior Rachel Conn and juniors Nicki Bazer and Anna Doherty.

Junior National Association for the Deaf had another succesful year, providing a community in which deaf students could interact comfortably.

The Cinema Club was founded this year. "It's been very successful. We expect it to be around for a long time," commented sophomore Doug McGowan, president.

The Remote Control Car Club was founded this year by sophomores Dan Meade, Long Nguyen, and freshman Brian Guild.

The Newton Political Action Committee's goal was to raise community awareness. The officers were seniors Scott Burg, president; Matt Burgstresser, vice-president; Brian Salmonson, treasurer; and Bob Fiske, secretary.

The Paint Ball Club was founded for pure enjoyment and fun.

The Cestial Signers performed at Livingston Night, Acoustic Night, and Ric 'n' Rocco. Edco teacher Margo Martin said "Students showed lots of energy and patience." She also praised junior Megan Clancy for her leadership.

INTERNATIONAL CLUBS

The International Club was extraordinary this year "because we had a lot of time to learn about each culture and it brought people closer together," said senior president Jon Lehr. Senior Niamh Page and junior Parastou Sodagar were co-vice-presidents.

"The Spanish Club has been a gift, because it allowed Americans interested in Hispanic culture and students from Hispanic backgrounds to interact," said senior Cora Stubbs-Dame. Besides Stubbs-Dame, other officers were seniors Wanda Galvez, Alison Jacobs, sophomores Suzanne Henry, and Natasha Hsi.

Vision Hispana was formed to provide guidance and a community for people who speak Spanish or who are simply interested in Hispanic culture.

The French Club watched movies which "improved their understanding and enjoyment of the French culture," said senior Ross Berbeco, the vice-president. Other officers were seniors Lori Katz, president; Hanson Liu, treasurer; and sophomore Alexandra Jarige, secretary.

"In recent years the Russian Club hasn't done much. It was great to see it doing more activities again," said senior Irene Lusztig, a co-president. The club had a dinner and several teas. Senior Jerusha Hall was the other co-president.

The Italian Club focused primarily on a community service project. "Most of our work was dedicated to the Heartline Fund. We had a lot of fun," said senior Beth Piro, the Interhouse representative. Other officers were seniors Lisa Gallinelli, president; Beth Armstrong, vice-president; Pam Marascia, treasurer; and Andrea Muzi, secretary.

The Asian Culture Club, formerly the Chinese Club, was founded this year. Officers were senior Travinia Lee and junior Leana Yee, co-presidents; junior Chau Ly, vice-president; senior Tanya Moy, treasurer; and junior Tiffany Lin, secretary.

SERVICE CLUBS

Amnesty International sponsored "Let Music Set Us Free", an acoustic concert and continued to work within the community to raise awareness and to free "prisoners of conscience." Co-ordinators this year were seniors Gabe Unger and Steve Waxberg.

Orange Shield, the school service organization, "had a really big turnout of students and everyone was really involved and enthusiastic," said senior Stacy Cannistraro, co-director. Other directors were seniors Beth Armstrong, Dante Mazzola, Kim Tan, and junior Joanna Lewis.

Interact, a community service organization, worked in the First Church Shelter in Harvard Square. "People are working to get themselves out of the situation they're in, and we're glad that we can help," said senior Cora Stubbs-Dame. Other Interact officers were juniors Karen Stern, Meg Kassakian, Laura Greenberg, and Aliza Phillips.

Ethos for Equality had a successful year, working to change the English and History curriculum, heighten awareness of equality issues, and increase diversity. Officers this year were juniors Anna Doherty and Kurt Tommy.

↑ Interact: Senior Cora Stubbs-Dame, juniors Karen Stern, Meg Kassakian, and Aliza Phillips

The Animal Rights Club tried to raise awareness of animal testing. "We hope we can help prevent [animal cruelty] in the future," said sophomore Michelle D'Agostino, a co-president. Sophomore Diedre O'Leary was the other co-president.

Peer Leadership continued its work within the school. "One of our goals is to unite the school by bringing together people who wouldn't normally interact," senior Ben Grossman explained.

PAWS Mediation continued under the supervision of On-Campus coordinator Jeanne White. The student mediators worked to resolve conflicts as an alternative to disciplinary action.

STUDENT GOVERNMENT

"What we accomplished on SFA this year has really made a difference and will leave a lasting imprint on the school," declared senior SFA representative Matt Shufro. He, along with the other senior representative, George Whitesides, worked with the SFA to change the class rank system, improve the food in the cafeteria, and discuss the atmosphere in school.

The Senior Class Committee organized senior buddies, class spirit days, and a hiking trip. They sponsored dances, the lip-synch contest, and raised money by selling refreshments at football games. Senior class officers were Mike Gavin, president; Harry Lowd, vice-president; Ursula Liang, treasurer; and Tanya Jones, secretary.

Interhouse, the governing body of all of the clubs at Newton North, had a successful year, involving more clubs than previously. Officers were senior Noah Reinhardt and junior Marcy Brink, co-presidents; senior Rachel Cohen, treasurer; and Lori Katz, secretary.

THEATER

Theatre Ink, led by Tom Schaefer, was very active this year. David and Lisa, a play dealing with psychological disorders, introduced several new actors. Senior Ben Grossman and English teacher Tom DePeter directed a melodrama, No Mother to Guide Her, which allowed audience participation, a change of pace from the usual theatre fare. The Miss Firecracker Contest, a riotous comedy, was directed by seniors Erin Miles and Jill Riemer, both experienced actors themselves. Stage Crew, led by technical director Will Stackman and senior student technical directors Jeff Goldman and Sam Lunin, did an excellent job of making the productions professional. Senior housemanagers Noah Reinhardt, Laura Shulman, Becca Hyde, and Erika Lesser maintained order in the theater.

"Friday, November 15, 1991 will leave a lasting imprint on my mind and the minds of my contemporaries. The day was filled with confusion, pain, anguish, hurt, and betrayal. Yet it was a day of awakening.

"The chain of events leading up to Friday taught us that we cannot and will not accept racial indifference, and Friday was also a day that taught us that our voices mattered.

"As black people, white people, yellow people, and red people, we must either survive together, or we can continue to work on a path of destruction and disruption which will destroy the human race. I propose the former over the latter."

-Senior Tamika Taylor

"I personally feel that it runs deeper than a black vs. white issue. Daily, people are affected by name calling, be it their color, nationality, or their style. Most of us just blow it off and think nothing of it.

"I don't know the answer to this situation. But what I do know is that we shouldn't blame each other. We should take the time to look deep inside ourselves and find a way to make Newton North a more enjoyable high school for all of us."

The Men's Cross Country Team suffered from losing seniors who were part of last year's Bay State League Championship team. Despite these changes, the team had a strong season. Their record was 4-7, but four of their losses were by a margin of one point.

Captain John Blouin had a very successful season. In the Brookline meet, Blouin broke the course record by one second. In an exciting race against Natick, Blouin and two of the runners from Natick broke the course record while finishing within one second of each other.

Other strong runners included juniors Mike Dedekian and Brendan Mackay, as well as sophomore Luke Reusser. Mackay ran very well at the State Coaches' Junior-Senior Meet, finishing 18th.

Due to budget cuts, the Men's and Women's Cross Country Teams were combined this year. Mr. Martin was responsible for the coaching of both teams. According to Blouin, "Having only one coach for both the women's and men's teams never proved to be a problem, because Mr. Martin is an extremely knowledgeable and dedicated coach."

One of the season's highlights included the annual Swedish Fish Run, a trip to a local convenience store to stock up on Swedish fish. This is a men's tradition, which they now share with the women.

Mr. Martin said of his new responsibility, "At first I was against the merging of the two teams, but in the end it was a thrill to work with a really super bunch of kids."

It was no shock to this year's Women's Cross-Country team when they won the Bay State League Title. With their six year winning streak, it was hard to be surprised. Winning has become a regular practice.

The strength of the team is evident in the number of All Star athletes the team has. This year, senior co-captains Lisbeth Harris and Jen Rosman, as well as seniors Liz Schnitzer and Merridith Miner, juniors Jane Saczynski and Jenny Martin were All Stars. Rosman commented, "The depth of our team is unbelievable this year. We have nine runners who can run competitively with each other in practices."

Junior Jenny Martin had a very successful season this year. She finished first in the league meet, first in the Junior - Senior State coaches meet, second in the Catholic Memorial Meet, and second in the Class A meet. Lisbeth Harris also ran very well this season. She finished seventh in the Junior - Senior State Coaches Meet and seventh in the Class A Meet.

"We clearly are the best team in the state even if we lost the State Meet. With 31 kids on the team, we had our largest team ever," said Coach Peter Martin.

Although this powerhouse will lose four strong members next year, the team will maintain its excellence with its returning runners. Strong runners who will return include juniors Jenny Martin, Jane Saczynski, Katie Reppert, and freshmen Martha Holt and Tracy Northrup.

Sweating and sprinting through the summertime heat, the Field Hockey Team of 1991 (8-7-1) never showed any doubt in their game.

Co-captains Marianne Gonzales and Kim Tan had hoped this inexperienced team would pull together and work well with each other. They were like a family off the field, but they had to bring that mentality onto the field. Key players Gonzales, an All-Star, and Sarah Mazur, an honorable mention, greatly contributed to the Tiger offense. On defense, first-time goalie Julie McGuire improved one hundred percent and successfully protected the net against vigorous onslaughts by rival teams.

The season started off well. The women were working well together, and enthusiasm was increasing. But as time went on, the days got colder, injuries became more frequent, spirits dropped, and the team struggled on the field. Yet they always seemed to pull together, and the season ended with a smile when the team qualified for the state tournament.

The last time the Newton North Field Hockey team had been in the tournament was 1984. As exciting as it was for the team, it was also a first for Coach Celeste Myers.

"It was a successful season," Tan said, "and next year's team looks promising."

This year's Football Team went a long way towards establishing itself as a strong contender in the Bay State Conference. "Last year, when you told someone you played for Newton North, it would be a joke. This year we're beating the teams that laughed at us, and gaining a lot of respect in the process," said senior Eric Busa, the quarterback.

Busa attributes North's success to the team as a whole. "Dave Lewis is a great back who can do a lot by himself, but it's the guys like Ioram Grinblatas, Mike Henry, and Aaron Beineke who pound holes in the defense and create opportunities for him."

North's triumph over Dedham marked the team's third win in five games, surpassing last year's total. Even though Dedham, ranked 18th in the state, was a lot bigger than North, the inspired play of both the offensive and defensive lines won the game. Head Coach Peter Capodilupo called the victory "very big." He was impressed with senior running back David Lewis, calling his performance "explosive." The defense, led by senior linebacker Matt Engel and tri-captain Greg Mitchell, stopped Dedham cold.

Grinblatas summed up the attitude of this year's squad, saying, "We refused to be taken lightly. We remembered from last year the teams that humiliated us. We didn't allow that to happen this year."

The Tigers spent the season replaying those teams and have indeed proved that Tiger football should not be taken lightly.

After an extremely successful season last year, pessimists would assume that this year's Golf Team would be weakened by the loss of last year's seniors. However, the Golf Team returned as strong as ever and claimed the Bay State League Title once again.

The strongest golfers on the team this year were seniors Dave Stewart, Mike Mahoney, Scott Marchand, and Dennis Burke, juniors Eli Chapman, Rob Griffen, and Matt Nishibori. The team's strength lies in their outstanding depth. Coach Jerry Phillips remarked, "We have 10 or 12 players who can beat each other on any given day." Because this year's team is mostly juniors, next season promises to be a winning one as well.

One very exciting competition was the match against Braintree, the team Newton North needed to beat in order to win the coveted Bay State League Title. Not surprisingly, the team performed well against the intense competition and won the match and the league title as well.

Newton North's only defeat came in their match against Walpole, a team North had beaten before. Senior Dave Stewart attributes the loss to overconfidence resulting from past victories.

Although the Men's Soccer Team had a tough season, they finished strong by winning against Needham (1-0) and by crushing Brookline (8-1). "There were many new players with no varsity experience," commented co-captain Dante Mazzola of his team.

The team had only seven returning varsity players, of which only three had been starters last year. This left room for much individualism and lack of team unity. With a new coach and a practically new team, North faced a hard road ahead.

The tigers needed to win all three of their remaining games in order to obtain a tournament spot. That pressure seemed to pull the team together, allowing them to play with full force. Co-captain Matt Shufro remarked that, "If we had peaked earlier we would have been a very competitive tournament team." Unfortunately, the Tigers did not qualify for a tournament spot.

The season ended with junior Dave Rosenberg, seniors Cormac Collier, and Dante Mazzola as the leading point holders. Both captains also cited sophomores Patrick Brickley and Brandon Doyle as having an outstanding rookie season.

Despite the teams ups and downs, Mazzola feels that, "They gave it their best, and that's what counts."

Continuing a long standing tradition of excellence, the Women's Soccer Team had a fantastic season. The team's strength and depth carried them all the way to the South Sectional Semi-Finals.

Captain Fennel Doyle remarked on the Tigers' strength, "This season was the most exciting and rewarding experience I've had as a player and as a captain. It wasn't a team composed of a few individuals who pulled us through; everyone played a part." It was North's ability to work together that made the team so successful this year.

North still had an abundance of great players, however. Seniors Tanya Jones and Fennel Doyle, as well as junior Caitlin Feeney were recognized for their outstanding play by being named to the league's All Star team. Senior Amy Burril along with juniors Tracey Scott and Meg Kassakian made the second All Star team.

The biggest highlight for the Tigers was beating Framingham (3-0) after losing to them at the beginning of the season. Jones said, "We got the revenge we were seeking, in addition to a share of the League Title." The Tigers finished the regular season as Co-Champions of the Bay State Conference.

When the season was over, Jones remarked, "Our expectations were high. Going into the season we had set lofty goals. It was a bit disappointing not to reach them all, but there's no shame in what we did achieve."

The Women's Swimming Team had a lot to live up to after winning last year's Bay State league title. Fortunately, the team had strong returning swimmers, who enabled Newton North to maintain its tradition of excellence.

This year, the strongest swimmers were seniors Kathleen Snyder, co-captain Sophie Lanjuin, Amanda Keaveny, Niamh Page, juniors Emily Grantham, Martha Quebec, and Amy Stengel. Strong freshman additions were Meghan Grantham, Rachel Quebec, and Andrea Slate.

Co-captain Sophie Lanjuin felt that this year's team proved to be unique because of the intense camaraderie.

Some team activities that strengthened the team's unity were snack parties, team dinners, and an overnight.

The meet against Brookline was the most thrilling of the season because of the long standing rivalry between the two teams. A mandatory evacuation after a power failure added to the excitement of the meet. Amidst all the commotion, the Tigers won with a score of 100-85.

The "Tiger S'women" finished their season with an impressive record of 9-3. They look forward to many more years of success.

After two years of losing, the Women's Volleyball Team finally came to life this fall. "At the beginning of the season, we weren't too sure of ourselves," said tri-captain Cindy Lee, "but we won our first three games and realized that we could hold our own in the Bay State League."

The team finished with a record of 13-2, winning more than ten games for the first time in three years. The Tigers defeated Brookline, the eventual Bay State Carey division champions, and Wellesley, the Herget division champions. "After the first few games, we began to come together as a team," said tri-captain Ursula Liang. "We started to sense each other's abilities and temperaments, and we could compensate for one another. We worked well as a team."

Three returning starters anchored the team. The combination of Lee, Liang, and the third tri-captain, Stephanie Mandell, provided a foundation for success. All three were chosen for the league All-Star team, along with junior Heather Maisel. "We had three returning starters this year," said coach Rich Barton. "It was important to the success of the team that they play well, and they did."

The Tigers reached the state tournament, but lost in the first round to the eventual State Champions, North Quincy, in three well fought games on November 5. "We played well," said Mandell. "They were a better team. It was discouraging to lose, but it was good to be in the tournament."

The Men's Basketball Team accomplished their goals this year with hard work and a lot of heart. They proved skeptics wrong and completed their season with a winning record, setting a solid foundation for the future of Newton North basketball.

"Our goal this season was to try and help each player get better and attempt to get the team to play well together," Head Coach Jerry Phillips said. The Tigers stuck with that game plan. The starting line-up changed throughout the season, and the bench saw a lot of action, which gave each player valuable game experience. Playing experience translated into skilled and versatile individuals who united to form a threatening team.

One highlight of the season for the Tigers was winning the Waltham Holiday Tournament. "The team was very enthusiastic and worked hard," senior Sean Schofield commented. He added that "winning the tournament sparked an intensity which carried [them] through the season."

The Tigers, with three games to go and a 9-6 record, experienced their biggest win of the season when they beat the Milton Wildcats at home. According to senior Eric Busa, "It was the most impressive game that we played." The Tigers were down by 17 points at the half, but they came back to win the game in double overtime.

Coach Phillips cited the intensity of the entire team as a key strength this season. The players compensated for a lack of experience by immersing themselves in each game and practice. He commended senior co-captain Jon Churchill for his excellent rebounding and Busa for his reliable outside shot. The Tigers surpassed everyone's expectations and had a very successful season.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

After a series of successful pre-season games, the Women's Basketball Team was looking forward to a winning season. Unfortunately, the team did not perform as well as they had anticipated. There were many factors which were working against them. The biggest of these was the fact that they entered the season with only two returning starters. "The team was young and still needed time to mature both mentally and physically," said coach Cucina-Clancy.

Their record does not accurately reflect the Tigers ability. There were several games in which the Tigers played competitively and challenged their opponents, only to lose by a few points. "This was a rebuilding year," said senior co-captain Claudia Schnipper. What the team lacked in experience, they made up for in spirit and dedication. "We didn't have a very strong team, but we worked really hard and had lots of fun," said Schnipper.

According to coach Cucina-Clancy, the team consisted of a group of women who worked well together and never gave up, no matter how good the opposition was. Since the Bay State league was so competitive this year, the Tigers improved even when they lost. When the Tigers played Brookline in the most meaningful game of the season, they played at their highest level. Led by the strength of Schnipper, junior co-captain Tracy Scott, and freshman sensation Kim Visco, the Tigers won. The victory was significant because Brookline has been such a longstanding rival.

Most importantly, the Tigers enjoyed themselves. The team will lose only three seniors this season and has much to look forward to in future years.

The Newton North Cheerleaders embody the spirit of Newton North. Their dedication and hard work brought them great success this year. Despite the hardships they faced, they managed to thrive because of their will to maintain the group.

If the squad had stopped when the school refused to recognize them as a sport, they would never have known such a sense of accomplishment. Because North could not fund them due to budget cuts, they learned what it was like to be independent. With generous help from the Newton Booster Club and several dedicated families, the cheerleaders were able to continue a tradition of excellence.

The cheerleaders were honored several times this year. They finished second in the Division I Championship Competition. They were also chosen to cheer for the University of Michigan football team when the Wolverines came to play against Boston College. This brought them some measure of fame. Not only did they get to cheer for the incredible Big Ten Powerhouse, but they also appeared on TV and were written about in the Boston Globe. "I just hope Boston College didn't take it personally. I still want to go there," one cheerleader commented.

The cheerleaders fulfilled their obligations to the Tigers as well. They held weekly pep rallies that brought the school together and endured the frigid Saturday morning football games with a smile. In the winter they cheered in front of dedicated basketball fans.

Newton North was lucky to have such an enthusiastic group of women to represent our teams. They proved that without sufficient funding, cheerleading could continue and succeed. They earned a great deal of respect from the student body for their loyalty.

The Newton North Men's Gymnastics Team, despite their record, had a successful season this year. They were a force to be reckoned with and gave all but the best teams a run for their money. Most of their losses were determined by a margin of only a few points and could have been wins if it had not been for absences.

"We had a lot of problems this year. People missed meets, got suspended, were ineligible to compete when we needed them most, and left on exchanges. Despite all of this we still managed to have a fairly successful season," said co-captain Jeremy Baryza. The Tigers finished the season by qualifying for the State Meet, where they placed seventh, despite the fact that only four gymnasts showed up to compete for the team. The Tigers were not even expected to qualify as a team for the meet. It is a credit to their determination and drive that they made it as far as they did; they were underdogs if ever there was such a thing. Strong gymnasts this year were senior co-captain Jose Garcia-Parra, junior Titon Hoque, and Baryza.

Talented additions to this year's team were freshman Brian Langan and junior

Karl Abele. Both were top scorers in their events despite it being their first year of competition. "Brian was a great addition to this year's team. It's great to see talent like that in a freshman," Baryza commented. Langan finished a strong second on floor and fifth all-around at the Coaches' Invitational.

Baryza had an excellent season this year. At the beginning of the year he was unable to compete on the floor and on the vault due to a knee injury suffered at last year's State Meet. By the end of the year Baryza was tumbling again and qualified for State's where he placed fifth in the all-around, second on parallel bars, and in the top six on pommel horse, still rings, and vault. Baryza also became the first North gymnast ever to qualify for the High School National Gymnastics Championships in May.

The Tigers hope to make up for the loss of this year's seniors by developing the skills of their younger athletes. They look forward to another strong season next year.

From the beginning of the season, the Women's Gymnastics Team knew they had a challenge ahead of them. But they were ready for what lay ahead. Led by the returning strength of senior co-captains Beth Armstrong and Stephanie Mandell, along with junior Meredith Orren and the new talent of freshmen Julie Eshelman and Becca Epstein, the Tigers set off on what would prove to be a very tough year. The Tigers certainly did not have their best season, but they were not disappointed at the end.

"At the beginning of the season we all set personal goals for ourselves," explained co-captain Armstrong. "The team worked really hard to achieve them, and the season has been one of constant improvement." The Tigers finished their season with a decisive win against rival Brookline.

Co-captains Armstrong and Mandell both agreed that among the new freshmen, Becca Epstein and Julie Eshelman were the most talented and made a strong addition to the team. "They helped the team out with their skill. If North can continue to acquire gymnasts of their caliber, the team will be a force to contend with in the future," Mandell said of the pair.

"Although we did not do extremely well against other teams," said Mandell, "we kept topping ourselves and everyone was very proud of that." The Tigers scores continued to rise throughout the season. While some of the variations in score can be attributed to different judges, the Tigers consistently improved from meet to meet in both difficulty and execution.

The captains both agreed that floor and vault were the team's strongest events. And while the girls were all good gymnasts, their routines didn't have a lot of difficulty and therefore the Tigers couldn't compete against the stronger teams, despite their improvements.

Armstrong summed up the season best when she said, "We all had great attitudes throughout the season, and we had lots of fun. That's what really counts."

The 1992 Newton North Hockey Team's season was one of the most exciting of the year. This powerhouse of a team went undefeated in their regular season games and won the Carey division as well as clenching the Bay State League title. Perhaps the most impressive honor the team earned was a spot to compete in the Super Eight Tournament for the State Championship. Any one of the teams in the Super Eight was good enough to win the Division 1 State Championship. The Tigers performed well, winning their first two games against Woburn (3-2) and Reading (4-1), but lost to Catholic Memorial (5-8) in the semi-final round.

The Tigers worked incredibly well as a team. Their success can not be attributed to any one player, because talent and dedication were evident in every position. Nine of the players earned Bay State League All Stars.

Senior co-captains Doug Gentile and Dennis Burke worked well together on offense. Gentile was named Player Of the Week in the Boston Globe for scoring one hundred career goals. Other senior stars included defensive players Mike Mahoney, Greg Mitchell, George Whitesides, and Paul Demaio. Senior Scott Marchand had a strong season as well, adding depth to the team.

In the first game of the State Tournament, the Tigers were ranked sixth and faced Woburn, ranked third. The Tigers performed well under pressure and shocked the state by beating their opponents. The Tigers expected to play second ranked Matignon next but were surprised to discover that Matignon had lost to Reading. As a result, the Tigers were scheduled to play Reading instead of Matignon. The Tigers were more confident going into this game against a lesser team. The Tigers defeated Reading 4-1.

The Tigers brought new energy to the dreary season. They infused a newfound winter spirit. Five thousand fans attended the Newton/Reading game. The success of the Newton North Hockey team had a tremendous effect on the student body. The school took great pride in their achievements.

This year the Men's Swim Team faced major setbacks in experience and ability due to the loss of six very strong swimmers from the class of '91. However, under coaches Christopher "Doc" Jones and Randy Johnson, the team was able to pull together and have a successful season. They finished third in the Bay State Conference behind Natick and Framingham. "Our losses to both those teams were understandable; they had stronger swimmers, and a lot of depth," noted senior tri-captain Michael King.

After those two meets the squad had five straight wins, including the Tiger's most significant achievements, the defeat of archrivals Brockton and Brookline. "They were good teams, but we knew we had to win, and we swam our best to beat them," said senior tri-captain Robert Tong. The Brookline meet was an important landmark for the team. It was the first time they had won against Brookline at their pool in over ten years.

A strength this year was the Tiger's ability to rearrange key swimmers in order to best utilize their strengths. Senior tri-captain Noah Reinhardt said this flexibility was most apparent at the Brockton meet. "We were missing some strong swimmers, but, with a little luck, we came out ahead."

The loss to Lowell at the end of the season was a disappointment for the Tigers, who were unprepared for the strong opposition they presented. However, the defeat sparked new momentum for the team which powered it through the Bay State Conference Meet and the South Sectionals Meet, at which the Tigers placed third and seventh respectively.

The Tigers broke four school records this year. At Sectionals, junior Matt Swensson took the record times for both the 200 and 500 freestyle, and John Oliver captured the time for the 200 Individual Medley. At States, Mike King beat the record for the 100 yard backstroke.

Other strengths on the team included tri-captains Reinhardt and Tong, and juniors Tom Taylor, Tim Fallon, and Jamal VanPutten, the Tiger's top diver.

This season the Men's Indoor Track team earned their first Bay State Conference title since entering the league two years ago. The Tigers finished 8-0 and edged out rival Brookline in the final meet of the year. Senior tri-captain John Blouin finished first in the mile at the Bay State League meet and went on to the State meet, where he finished eighth.

"John was our team's most outstanding runner," Head Coach Jim Blackburn noted, "but tri-captain Dan Helfet-Hilliker, the team's leading point scorer in the 300, High Jump, and 1600 relay was the team's M.V.P." Blackburn cited senior tri-captain Louis Chang and senior Rob Uttaro as being key team members for the Tigers. In the State Class A Relay Meet, the mile relay team of Helfet-Hilliker, sophomore Yuval Bar-Ilan, senior John Mullen, and senior Mark Zytkevich placed third behind Falmouth and Cambridge Ringe & Latin with a personal best of 3:32. At the Bay State League Meet, the Tigers established their team's depth in the 300. Helfet-Hilliker placed second, Zytkevich fourth, and sophomore Elliot Klein fifth. In the mile relay, the Tigers took second in a highly anticipated head-to-head match-up with Norwood, the Bay State League Herget Division champions.

The Tigers breezed through the regular season showing strength in every event. The shorter distances were controlled by sprinters Uttaro and Chang, hurdlers Jake Moerschel, Dante Mazzola, and Jeff McIntyre, Mullen and Bar-Ilan in the 600, and senior Gabe Stuart, Helfet-Hilliker and Zytkevich in the 300. Blouin and junior Mike Dedekian led the long distance runners in the mile. Ben Worthen was the team's top two miler. Sophomores Russel Walker and Patrick Brickley were a pleasant surprise in the 1000. After having a great season this year, Blackburn still has a strong core of underclassmen to whom he can look in the future.

The 1992 Women's Indoor Track Team was as powerful as usual. Last year's State Championship team graduated only a few valuable seniors. Therefore, the team was a contender for the state title again. To no one's surprise, they maintained their reputation as one of the finest teams in the state.

The team had a new head coach this year, Joe Tranchita, who had confidence in the strength of the team, which helped them to capture the Bay Sate League Title and the Class A State Champonship Title, as well as placing first at the Class A State Relays. The Tigers did not perform as well as they had hoped to at the State Meet, where they placed fourth.

The Tigers' success can be attributed to excellent coaching by Tranchita, Peter Martin, and David Banks. The talent on the team was incredible as well. Senior tri-captain Tanya Jones won the State Championship in the 300 yard race. Jones also helped to earn thirty points in the Class A meet by winning the high jump. Junior Jenny Martin placed second in the one mile race at States. Senior tri-captain Lisbeth Harris contributed by running on the mile relay team and finishing second in the Class A meet in the 1000. Freshman Martha Holt surprised the team by performing extremely well in the two mile. Senior Jen Rosman had a superb season, placing fifth at the State Coaches' Meet in the two mile.

One of the highlights of the season was the team's win at the Class A state relays. Martin, Harris, freshman Leigh Summers, and Jones ran the mile relay for the Tigers. Another highlight was the team's overwhelming victory at the Class A Meet.

Everything came together for the team in the Class A's. Almost everyone had an excellent performance. It is comforting to know that whatever all the other teams are doing at North, the Women's Track team will always come through. In four years they have not lost, and one hopes that this amazing streak will continue.

The 1992 Newton North Wrestling Team had an fantastic season, finishing with a record of 13-4. "The team was the best Newton North has seen in five years," commented senior Shawn Tubman.

The Tigers took second place in the State MIAA Wrestling Tournament, which was the highlight of the season. They beat Framingham, who had won Sectionals earlier. At the Sectional meet, the Tigers performed well. Senior captain Phil Garland placed third in the 171 lb. weight class. Junior Matt Chisholm placed third in the 145 lb. weight class. Senior Mike Henry also placed third, but in the heavy-weight class. Other strong performers included Jason Young, Chuck Bell, Brandon Doyle, and Chang Han.

Phil Garland attributed the success of the Tigers to their depth, especially to that of the junior class. Some excellent junior performers were Matt Chisholm, Jason Young, Chang Han, Nate Orenstein, and Chuck Bell. The senior class, which also had a great deal of talent, included Phil Garland, Mike Henry and Shawn Tubman. Sophomore Brandon Doyle also had an impressive season. One of the team's strengths was the excellent coaching of Paul Murphy. "Mr. Murphy has improved the wrestling program considerably during the past four years," said Doyle.

One of the Tiger's greatest achievements this season was their win against the perennial wrestling power, Newton South. The Tigers finally conquered their neighboring rivals when Garland, Tubman, and Henry swept the 171 lb., 189 lb., and heavyweight divisions of the meet.

BASEBALL

↑ Baseball Tryouts

The 1992 Newton North Baseball Team hoped to continue a tradition of excellence in its season this year. Head Coach Joe Siciliano once again lead the Tigers through a successful season. The team had the strength of eight seniors returning from last year's powerful varsity line up. The Tigers had a record of 14-4 in regular season games last year and set out to be better that record by aiming for early season wins and continuing that momentum through the end of the season.

Optimism and spirit were high during the Tigers' grueling try-outs and practices at the start of the 1992 season. Senior Jon Churchill summed up the team's hopes for the season, "We have a strong team this year and hopefully we can go out there and win some big games and maybe make the tournament." Senior Doug Gentile also expressed the team's desire to win the Bay State League Title again.

Although the Tigers were blessed with a lot of raw talent, 1992 was a rebuilding year for the team. They lost all of their starting pitchers from 1991 and had to rely on seniors Jeff McIntyre and Frank Donellan to come through for them on the mound. While they lacked experience, the Tigers looked strong and had plenty of desire and ability.

An essential factor in the team's success this spring was its depth. Hitting, in particular, was a strength. There was consistency as well as sheer power at the plate. "We always expect a lot of home runs from Jon," Gentile said about Churchill. The Tigers counted on their returning players to pick up the slack that the graduating class left. Key players this year were Gentile, Churchill, seniors Jamie Keefe, Kirk Svartstrom, Donellan, McIntyre, juniors Brendon McCue, and Jason Mineker. A promising varsity tryout at the start of the season indicated that the Tiger Baseball Team will be a force for years to come.

The 1992 Newton North Men's Varsity Lacrosse team faced a year of "intense work," said Head Coach Bussy Adam. With the loss of a strong core of seniors from the 1991 team, the Tigers were uncertain about how their team would fare this season, but they proved to be an even better team than last year's.

Their success was the product of many changes within the team. "Bussy had a hard time last year, because of the poor attitudes of the players," senior Matt Engel said, "but this spring was a lot more enjoyable, because of our team unity." The Tigers overcame another potential team weakness by moving players from midfield to defense in order to strengthen the line. Eddie McCarthy was also moved, from a freshman coaching position to assistant coach of the varsity. The players commented that this was a welcome change, because McCarthy was great for team morale.

The team had a solid base of skill to build on this year. The players had a great deal of experience and an intense desire to play. "A realistic goal for us this season was to win the State Championship Title," senior John Mullen said. "Lincoln/Sudbury and Andover Academy have a legitimate chance against us, but with the depth of our team and the strength of our attitudes, we have the ability to go all the way."

The seniors were the backbone of the 1992 team, according to Engel, but it was essential for the team to work hard as a team to be successful. Key players were seniors Mullen, Engel, Mike Guzzi, Dave Spagnuolo, Brian Salmanson, Paul Demaio, Scott Marchand, and potential All Scholastic, captain Chris Mensoian. Juniors Chris Claffin, Jamie Doherty and Brett Splain were also strong contributors.

"The long tradition of having a winning Lacrosse team at Newton North will continue this year," said senior captain Chris Mensoian.

WOMEN'S LACROSSE

↑ Seniors Marianne Gonzales, Kathleen McCarthy, Mary Beth Cosgrove, Carly Warren, Amy Glovsky, Fennel Doyle, and Maureen Concannon

Supported by the successful second half of last year's season and nine returning seniors, the Women's Lacrosse team looked strong. "Last year, we ended strong. We were fourth in the league and lost to the number one team by only one goal," said senior co-captain Mary Beth Cosgrove.

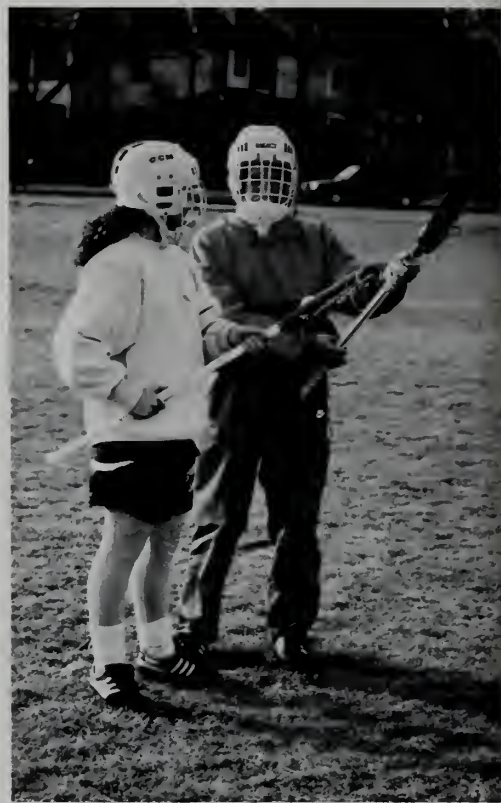

This year the Tigers were playing in a new, more difficult league where most of the teams were previous Division I contenders, said Coach Irene Cucina-Clancy. Because their offense was so strong, the Tigers tried to "improve on defense and be known as a good defensive team." Cucina-Clancy stressed performance over outcome. "It's great to win, but I don't want all the emphasize on winning," she said.

Cucina-Clancy cited seniors co-captain Maureen Concannon, Amy Glovsky, and Mara Willard as attack players, Fennel Doyle and Marianne Gonzales as midfielders, and Cosgrove, Kathleen McCarthy, and Carly Warren as defensive players. She added that juniors Amy Burill and Stephanie Walsh, both of whom transferred to North, looked very strong at the beginning of the season.

Concannon stated that this year's team was "more enthusiastic and competitive. Everybody's good this year instead of having a few players carry the team."

Sixty eight women, including twenty eight freshmen, tried out for lacrosse this year. For the first time, players had to be cut because there was no freshman team. "We were going to try to keep everyone, but we don't have enough equipment, uniforms or helmets," Cucina-Clancy said. "It's sad because the boys have a freshman team and we don't. I hate to make sports elitist, but it's becoming so that you have to be really good to be an upperclassmen and make it. You have to make decisions as a coach where to put emphasis. Mine is on the younger kids, until the budget turns around and we can fight for a freshman team."

SOFTBALL

The Softball Team started the 1992 season with optimism and enthusiasm. Although they faced an uphill battle, due to the loss of several key seniors from the 1991 squad, the players aimed high from the beginning.

"Naturally, our goal was to improve our league standings this year," Head Coach Harrington said. "We tied for third with Needham last year and hoped to match if not better that ranking."

Harrington said that it was important for the entire team to play up to its potential every day and to stay injury-free in order for the team to be successful. She stressed that a smooth transistion from JV to varsity was essential for all of the first year varsity players and commended the strength and leadership of returning varsity players.

The players, in return, said that their coach was an important factor in the success of the team. "Ms. Harrington was always very supportive," senior Lori Gannon said. "She pushed us all to reach our potentials and kept our spirits high. When we had a bad game, she worked even harder to keep the morale of the team high."

The Tigers concentrated on improving their batting and winning early to boost confidence. Harrington hoped to work on the team's only weakness, the lack of the varsity experience, by focusing on the two strengths of the team, great attitude and raw talent. She cited the two captains, sophomore Sarah Mazur and junior Andrea Murphy, as crucial leaders on the team, and praised the play of returning seniors Gannon, Danielle Ferzacca, Mimi Saris, Lisa Savicks, Govinda Sumberg, and Lori Wisherd. Harrington also noted that juniors Rachel Kraus, Alicia Marini, and sophomore Colleen Smith were key contributors to the team, while freshman Kim Visco was a "tremendous athlete with a promising future."

MEN'S TENNIS

↑ Senior Gabe Unger

At the season's beginning, Head Coach Phil Goldberg saw the Men's Tennis Team as "a good young team, but not a powerhouse." He hoped the season would be "a unique opportunity for the captains and returning players to make a significant impression on younger team members."

This season, the Tigers worked to qualify for the State Tournament by pushing each individual to play up to his potential. Goldberg stressed that building up the team's depth was also a prominent goal which would help secure the future of the team. He cited the players' great attitudes and team spirit as important factors in their success. Senior co-captain Gabe Unger added that the team held dinners and other activities together to help increase team unity.

Senior co-captain Dave Rosenbaum was an essential part of the team with his consistent performances as the top singles player. He helped the Tigers adapt smoothly to the loss of quite a few seniors from the 1991 roster. In addition, a core of strong returning varsity players including seniors Josh Alpert, Unger, juniors Brian Colton, Chris Martino, Billy O'Brien, sophomores Jeff Bray and Issac Fine ironed out the transition.

"It was an exciting and challenging season," Unger commented.

The Women's Tennis team relied on strong individual skills and team unity to make 1992 a successful season. With a solid core of upperclassmen and a surprising burst of young talent, the Tigers battled their way through the spring.

"Our goal was to qualify for the State Tournament," head coach Jan Perkins said. "Last year we didn't qualify and this year we wanted to make up for that disappointment." According to Perkins, it is never an easy task to make the tournament. Newton North faces many high caliber teams in the Bay State League, including Brookline, Framingham, Natick, Walpole, and Wellesley. Perkins cited seniors Loryn Nash, Lee Rosenblum, and junior Mara Liberman as key players in their efforts against the aforementioned opponents. She also praised sophomores Laura Kohansky, Molly Hammermesh, freshmen Leslie Adelson, Caitlin Morrissey, Johanna Morrissey, and Irene Tserkovemy for their contributions to the team.

"We lost of talent when seven varsity players graduated last year," Rosenblum said, "but we didn't lose any enthusiasm. This year's team was always excited to play, so we had fun, regardless of the outcome of the match." Rosenblum stressed that the team's most important asset was a universal love for tennis. She also said that the players were not excessively competitive with each other, but instead, worked together as a team to beat their opponents.

MEN'S OUTDOOR TRACK

After winning the Bay State League Title in indoor track and finishing the season with a record of 8-0, Newton North Men's Track finally established a respectable name for itself in the Bay State League.

Outdoor track, however, was a different story for the Tigers. The team, though strong in talent, was hurting in numbers. The team lost a great deal of valuable runners to other sports this season. "Our first goal at the start of the season was to recruit more runners," Head Coach Jim Blackburn said. "After the first week of practice, we only had twenty-five people on our roster, and that is not nearly enough for a track and field team."

Blackburn also noted that the team was faced with an uphill battle at every meet, regardless of the strength of the runners, because Newton North is not allowed to participate in the pole vault. "Each meet we start with a nine point deficit. We lost two meets last year because of that setback." Needham was the only other team in the league which did not pole vault.

The team expected a lot this season from seniors Rob Uttaro and Sean Schofield, as well as tri-captains Louis Chang, Dan Helfet-Hilliker and John Blouin. In addition to these runners, some strong juniors included Mike Dedekian and Brendon Mackay. Key sophomores were Yuval Bar-Ilan, Mike Uttaro, Elliot Klein, and Jason Miles.

Blouin hoped to perform well in the state meet in the one mile run. In the winter, he placed sixth in the Class A Meet, despite being injured. Schofield participated in track for the first time last year and did extremely well in the high jump. He placed third in the Class A Meet and finished sixth overall in the state. This season Schofield aimed to improve his skill in the high jump and continue his success in the statewide meets.

WOMEN'S OUTDOOR TRACK

After a successful indoor track season, the Women's Outdoor Track Team anticipated an equally successful performance this season. The team was composed of basically the same runners as the indoor team with a few exceptions. The strength of the team was definitely overwhelming.

The Tigers had many strong runners to power them through the season and hopefully bring success. Some strong seniors included Stacy Cannistraro, Joanna D'Affliti, Lisbeth Harris, Tanya Jones, Merridith Miner, Jen Rosman, and Liz Schnitzer. Other key athletes included juniors Catie Feeney, Jenny Martin, sophomore Miriam Scorzelli, and freshman Martha Holt.

The Tigers had a lot of goals to accomplish in this season. According to Head Coach Joe Tranchita, "One of our major goals is of course to win the league title. In part, it is to keep the undefeated streak going for the seniors who might have the rare opportunity of going four straight years without a loss."

Besides the Bay State Conference (league meet), there were also big meets like the State Relays, which the Tigers won in indoor track. In addition to this meet, the Class A meet was extremely important and they won this meet in the indoor season as well. The biggest meet of all was the State Meet, in which they placed fourth during the indoor season. All these encouraging results put them in a good position for the upcoming track season.

Next year, the team will be losing a lot of talented seniors, but the strength of the team will definitely still be there. With a strong freshman core of runners, the team can hope to do well for a number of years.

MEN'S VOLLEYBALL

↑ Seniors John Crockett, Delio Tramontozzi, Jon Lehr, Dan Worth, and Rob Gannon

The primary goal of the Men's Volleyball team was to have "a team who knows how and is able to play strong power volleyball," said coach Richard Barton at the season's opening. "It's always more of a player's goal to actually win games."

The Tigers had fourteen regular season games and were especially looking forward to playing rivals Brookline and Wellesley, both of which had great teams. "We have three strong players and that's enough to cause anyone trouble," Barton said. These players were seniors John Crockett, Rob Gannon, and Dan Worth. Barton also cited sophomore Sam Rosenthal, a returning player from last year's varsity team, as a major force.

According to Worth, the team hoped to have pasta dinners and play volleyball at the beach "to raise team spirit."

Legendary jazz trumpet player Miles Davis died on September 28, 1991. He was regarded as one of jazz's most influential players, leaving behind a body of work which spans five decades.

Thelma & Louise was a startling success in this year's movie pool. Susan Sarandon and Geena Davis tackled a pressing social issue with their outstanding performances as victims of sexual assault. Thelma & Louise was nominated for the prestigious Best Picture Emmy.

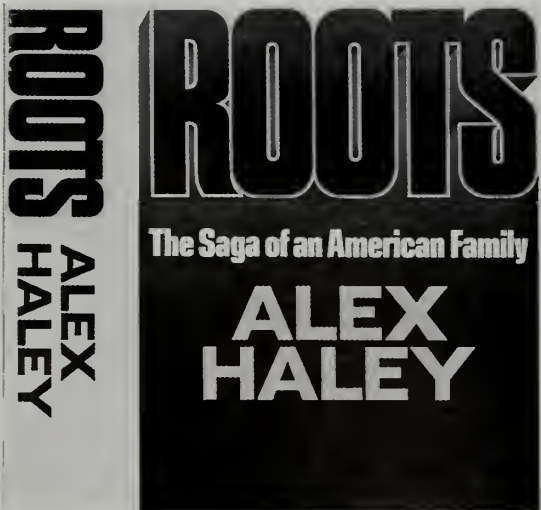

The Soviet Union was officially dismantled, leaving fifteen independent countries. Mikhail Gorbachev resigned, and Boris Yeltsin, the Russian president, became the people's new leader.

The Minnesota Twins defeated the Atlanta Braves in seven games the 1991 World Series. Both teams were ranked at the bottom of their leagues in 1990.

All of the U.S. hostages being detained in Beirut, including journalist Terry Anderson, were released. Anderson had been one of the longest held captives in the Middle East.

Alex Haley, author of Roots and The Autobiography of Malcolm X, died on February 10, 1992 at age 70. Roots, the Pulitzer Prize winning depiction of the slave trade and slave life, forced America to acknowledge its dark past.

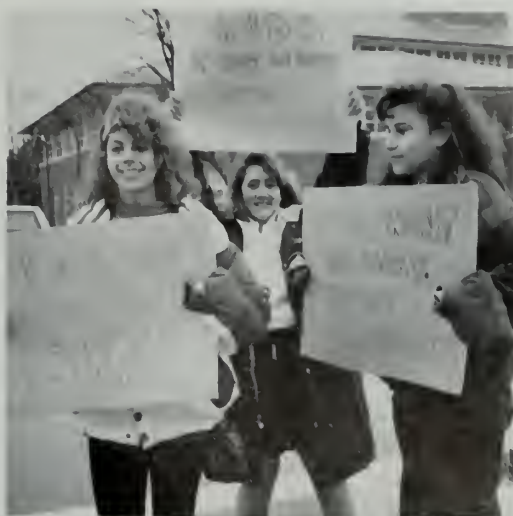

Sports fans around the world were shocked and dismayed to discover that legend Earvin Magic Johnson of the Los Angeles Lakers was diagnosed HIV positive. Johnson immediately retired and has vowed to educate Americans about his disease. He was appointed to the President's committee on AIDS education.

David Duke, former Ku Klux Klan Grand Dragon and Nazi sympathizer, was narrowly defeated in Louisiana's gubernatorial race. He also gained a spot on the Republican presidential primary ticket in many states. Duke's success was alarming to many Americans and opened many old wounds.

Mike Tyson was convicted of raping Desiree Washington, a Miss Black America Pageant contestant. The results of this case challenged the notion that sports celebrities are immune to the legal system.

Newton North became the sixth public school in the state to approve the availability of condoms. Students organized a petition and rally to support condom availability due to their concerns about AIDS.

The movie JFK, directed by Oliver Stone, met controversy upon its release. An examination of the John F. Kennedy assassination, JFK made many Americans question the circumstances of his death.

Justice Clarence Thomas was appointed to the Supreme Court despite allegations by law professor Anita Hill that he sexually harassed her ten years ago.

*I can hear her heart beat for a thousand miles
And the heavens open every time she smiles
And when I come to her that's where I belong
Yet I'm running to her like a river's song*

*She's got a fine sense of humor when I'm feeling low down
And when I come to her when the sun goes down
She take away my trouble, take away my grief
Take away my heartache, I go right to sleep*

*Yes I need her in the daytime
Yes I need her in the night
Yes I want to throw my arms around her
Kiss her hug her kiss hug her tight*

*And when I'm returning from so far away
She gives me some sweet lovin' brightens up my day
Yes it makes me righteous, yes it makes me whole
Yes it makes me mellow right down to my soul*

*She gives me love, love, love, love, crazy love
She gives me love, love, love, love, crazy love*

*"Congratulations!
Today is your day.
You're off to Great Places
You're off and away!"*

*You have brains in your head.
You have feet in your shoes.
You can steer yourself
any direction you choose.*

*Oh the places you'll go! There is fun to be done!
There are points to be scored. There are games to be won.
And the magical things you can do with that ball will make you the winning-est winner of all.*

*Just never forget to be dextrous and deft.
And never mix up your right foot with your left.
And will you succeed??
Yes! You will, indeed!
(98 and 3/4 percent guaranteed.)*

*You're off to Great Places!
Today is your day!
Your mountain is waiting.
So...get on your way!"*

That's all folks. We've lasted through four years of pain, love, heartache, and growth—let's not forget our classes, too. While it is easy to remember the negative aspects of school—the hours of boredom and labor, the hard teachers, and the embarrassments—we should not and cannot let ourselves forget the joys of the last four years. We must remember the friendships that will last forever, the way we have matured, and the wisdom we have gained from our trials. We must remember also that high school is not the end—it is the beginning. Graduation is but a springboard from which we will begin the rest of our lives.

We should use high school as a foundation. What we have learned will carry us through future. With any luck, we are better prepared for what is to happen in 1993 and beyond.

The 1992 Newtonian is 256 pages long of which 16 pages are process color. It is the result of approximately 3,400 hours of work by the staff. The yearbook was put together in PageMaker 4.01, Microsoft Word 4.0, and Microsoft Works 2.0 software on various Macintosh computers, ranging from the SE to the IICI. Approximately 10,000 photographs were taken by the photography staff. The book was imageset at Jostens Printing & Publishing on a Linotronic™ imagesetter.

440 copies of this “limited edition” book were printed. The book was distributed on 18 May 1992, the Monday of the seniors’ last week of classes at Newton North.

The budget for the 1992 Newtonian was $27,000. The money was raised entirely from advertisements, book sales, and other outside contributions.

The typefaces used in the yearbook were Symbol bold (Σψμβολ βολδ), 8 point for the arrows; Adobe™ Garamond (Adobe Garamond) in various sizes from 7 point to 150 point for copy, captions, index, blurbs, and headlines; and Tekton (Tekton) 10 point for the page numbers.

The craftline embossed cover was drawn by Mark Sisco. The silkscreened colors used were yellow-gold 371, orange 338, and purple 354.
